

Emergency Medicine Golden Jubilee Celebration Week 9-13 October 2017

We're holding a Celebration Week from 9 - 13 October 2017 and want your help to mark 50 years of Emergency Medicine.

Be part of a week of themed events to inspire, educate and celebrate all that is great in Emergency Medicine. Join us by launching the week in our attempt to set a world record for the most people learning CPR in 2 hours!

We are seeking small multidisciplinary teams (ED doctors, nurses, managers) to help teach CPR to the public in their region. We also want to help promote important educational messages on other themes during the week; providing advice, education and support on the issues that matter.

You can also help to raise funds for the new RCEM Foundation that we think will inspire great research and educational projects in the future, at home and in the developing world.

Register your team before
Friday 8 September 2017

To take part, get a fundraising toolkit or for more information contact

EM50@rcem.ac.uk, or visit
rcem.ac.uk/em50

Monday 9 October – Basic life support
Attempt to break the world record for the most people being taught CPR in two hours

Tuesday 10 October – Mental Health
Understand and better support both patients and staff experiencing mental health issues

Wednesday 11 October – Violence prevention
Learn about violence prevention and alcohol in your local area

Thursday 12 October – Accident prevention
Help support accident prevention strategies especially for the very young and the very old

Friday 13 October – Wellness and exercise
Taking care of ourselves and our patients

#EM50 @RCollEM

royal_college_em